

Again, this month there is not a lot of activity at the museum because of the time of the year and the weather. The Michelin bash at the end of April is probably the biggest event coming up. As Mike Wahl pointed out last month this is a great event to go to if you don't like big crowds, but you still need to get your applications in and secure a place to stay. The more popular events fill up quickly so if you're thinking about going you might want to apply soon

Also if you're thinking about attending the 25th museum anniversary in August you might want to touch base with Larry Bishop to see if there are any rooms available.

Just to make you drool a bit the museum sponsors a National Parks Tour, some of the stops include the Grand Canyon south rim, Zion National park, Bryce Canyon, Arches National park, Glen Canyon Dam, Monument Valley and Canyonlands National park. Can't you just see yourself visiting these parks in your vette, driving the mountain roads, and seeing some of the most beautiful scenery in the USA? This year's tour is September 22 through the 28.

If you want more information on anything going on at the museum go on their website.
